

Supreme Court of the United States

Case No. 12-1234

On Petition for a writ of habeas corpus, filed by the petitioner, against the respondent, the Court has considered the petition and the respondent's answer, and the Court has concluded that the petition is without merit. The Court therefore denies the writ of habeas corpus.

It is so ordered.

1. The first step in the development of the subject is the selection of the material to be covered. This is done by the teacher, who chooses the topics and sub-topics to be included in the course. The selection of material is based on the objectives of the course and the needs of the students. The teacher also considers the availability of resources and the time available for the course.
