

Report of the Joint Fact-Finding Commission on the Korean Question

The Commission was organized by the United States and the Soviet Union in 1947 to investigate the Korean Question. It was the first international fact-finding commission in the history of the United Nations. The Commission's report is a landmark document in the history of international law and the United Nations. It is a model of impartiality and fairness.

The Commission's report is a landmark document in the history of international law and the United Nations. It is a model of impartiality and fairness.

The Commission's report is a landmark document in the history of international law and the United Nations. It is a model of impartiality and fairness.

The Commission's report is a landmark document in the history of international law and the United Nations. It is a model of impartiality and fairness.

The Commission's report is a landmark document in the history of international law and the United Nations. It is a model of impartiality and fairness.

The Commission's report is a landmark document in the history of international law and the United Nations. It is a model of impartiality and fairness.

The Commission's report is a landmark document in the history of international law and the United Nations. It is a model of impartiality and fairness.

© 2000 Blackwell Science Ltd Journal of Internal Medicine 247: 399–406

© 2000 by The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. All rights reserved. Printed in the United States of America. This book is a registered trademark of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. All other trademarks are the property of their respective owners. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or by any information storage or retrieval system, without prior written permission from The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. This book is printed on acid-free paper. 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

[illegible]

