

The Middle Ages (1066-1500)

History of the Middle Ages

The Middle Ages is a period of European history, lasting from the 5th century to the 15th century. It is a time of great change and development, marked by the fall of the Roman Empire, the rise of Christianity, and the emergence of the modern world. The Middle Ages is a time of great achievement, but also of great suffering and hardship. It is a time when the world was shaped by the power of the Church, and when the people of the world were living in a world of great uncertainty and fear.
