THE COMMISSIONER

ALBANY, N.Y., JANUARY 1, 1911. I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. and in reply to inform you that the same has been forwarded to the proper authorities for their consideration. I am, however, unable to state at this time whether or not the same will be granted or not. I am, however, sure that the same will be given the most careful consideration.

Very respectfully,
J.B. LEECH, STATE PRINTER.

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th inst. and in reply to inform you that the same has been forwarded to the proper authorities for their consideration. I am, however, unable to state at this time whether or not the same will be granted or not. I am, however, sure that the same will be given the most careful consideration.

These results suggest that the relationship between the two types of social connections is complex. It appears that the two types of social connections are not simply additive, but rather, they interact in a way that suggests a more complex relationship. This finding has important implications for the design of social network interventions, as it suggests that the two types of connections should be considered together, rather than in isolation.

1. The first step is to identify the problem. In this case, the problem is that the company is not meeting its sales targets.
